Herefordshire Museums and Galleries

The Herefordshire Museums Collections are the heritage and memories of the people of Herefordshire past, into the present and the future.

The professional staff team, under the new name Herefordshire Museums and Galleries, together with volunteers run the three Hereford-based sites which are the core of the service

- The Hereford Museum and Art Gallery in Broad Street
- The History Store in Friar Street, where the historical and art Collections are stored
- The Old House (formerly the Black and White House) in High Town

Behind the scenes, the staff also provide important education, conservation, and exhibition activities. They care for the Collections and make them accessible to all.

HMSSG aims to support the service and promote the Collections and staff expertise.

- restoration of Hatton picture
- grants to enable school visits
- restoration of the Old House wall paintings
- Fundraising for acquisition of Herefordshire Hoard and ongoing promotion of the story of its discovery
